will be larger this season than usual, and as usual the best is here; also plain worsteds.

For the young man who wants something "different" we have just opened a limited number of "Novelties." Yes, in good taste, but not shy or quiet.

TERSELY TOLD.

J. Mason, of Roberts, Fla., was among the business visitors to the city yesterday.

The many friends of Captain Jacob Kryger are pleased to learn that he is again up, after having been confined to his bed for a few days.

Louis W. Schley and J. A. Setze, both of Augusta, Ga., were among the visitors to the city yesterday who registered at the Mercantile.

The friends of Fred Winkler, who left Pensacola several months ago to accept a position in New Orleans, are pleased to see him in the city again.

J. R. McGeachey, of Chipley, and Alex. Sessoms, of Bonifay, were among the prominent visitors who were here yesterday on short business visits.

Ross Cole, of Utah, a brother of Captain Cole, of Fort Barrancas, arrived here yesterday, and has taken a position in the quartermaster's department at the post.

Thirty-three defendants were before the mayor pro tem in the police court yesterday morning for trial. Of this number five defendants were discharged, and fines imposed amounting to $96.50.

Six more negroes, charged with being in the party Sunday engaged in shooting dice near the Two Cronies' saloon, were arrested yesterday by the police. This makes a total of about ten arrests on account of the alleged game.

Owing to the inclement weather the Easter egg hunt, which was to have occurred yesterday at St. Katherine's church, was postponed until today, when all the scholars of the Sunday school are expected to be present and participate in this very enjoyable occasion. Should the weather again be inclement the hunt will be postponed until the day following, but it is anticipated that the day will be a pretty one and the young people will greatly enjoy themselves.

Women appreciate quality and demand the best for their money. The increased demand by housekeepers everywhere for Blue Ribbon Lemon and Vanilla Extracts shows that they are the "BEST EVER MADE."

HOT SHOT FOR MR. A. CUCUMBER

DR. H. H. BOULTER REPLIES VIGOROUSLY TO ARTICLE IN THE NEWS OF FRIDAY.

Editor Pensacola Journal:

Kindly allow me space in your paper for a reply to an article in the News of Friday.

I have entered heart and soul into the campaign for Mr. Bliss's selection to the mayoralty and if my humble efforts can serve him they are freely given. I admire him for his ability as a writer, his superior mental equipment, and for his honesty of purpose.

All things being considered, I take it as a compliment when an article of mine is supposed to have been written by him.

Now, Mr. Cucumber, when you quote Sam Jones as saying "that throwing rocks at a lot of dogs the hit one howls," you give notice that one of Mr. Bliss's chunks hit you. Please do not make further allusions to Sam Jones. The sound of his voice to the sight of his name always gives a clean, decent man a spasm in the diaphragmatic region.

You have made up what you call your mind that I have missed my calling and should be writing for the funny papers instead of pulling teeth. Perhaps I can do both, but if I should write for a funny paper it would not be the News, although there are some funny guys on its staff. And as for teeth pulling, my right hand has not yet lost its cunning and because your bite shows your teeth to be poor and snagged and as nothing else can be done for them, I will proceed to extract them. Then, without mind, memory or teeth you will present a pitiable spectacle, and will possess nothing but a pair of whiskers and a shape. The whiskers you can lend to boy Shine, so that it will not be necessary for the people to say June 6th, "Go tarry in Jericho till thy beard be grown."

By the way, Cucumber, I dropped into the council last Wednesday and had a look at papa and the boy Shine. Both seemed to be doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Papa chewing a cigar while talking to the council, while the boy with modestly lowered eyelids attended strictly to his clerical duties. Above the heads of some of the councilors curled spirals of smoke indicative of the volcanic activity going on within their cranial cavities.

As I sat there, quietly, so as to disturb not the mental equipoise of the lotus eaters, my thoughts turned to that part of the Bible history relating to the wanderings of the Children of Israel. All will remember how Moses, after leading the people to the foot of Mt. Sinai, went up into the mountain to receive the law. Aaron, taking advantage of his absence, made a golden calf, set it upon a pedestal and made a proclamation before the people: "These be thy gods, O Israel, that brought thee out of the land of Egypt." In like manner the Aaron of the anti-primary movement and his high priests at dusky Eutopia Hall before a vast concourse of people, hatched the conspiracy that culminated in the C. K. of A. hall by which the boy Shine, the sudden convert to municipal ownership, was jerked from the obscurity of Aaron's pocket and placed on his present dizzy pinnacle, where he stands emanating and scintillating radiance and fragrance on the 500 colored voters and the 300 fishermen who are a Geo. T. Mulholland says, wearing his collar and will be voted in a lump on June 6. And proclamation was made before that vast outpouring of 25 persons "This be thy candidate, O people, that will lead thee up out of the Egyptian darkness into the light of a glorious future."

By the way, Mr. Cucumber, please serve notice on your chief that he may be able to pocket boy Shine and produce him when the occasion serves but when he puts him in nomination for the mayoralty of the future great city of Pensacola, and promises him the votes of a majority of the people, he may not be able to deliver the goods. There are some who have no minds of their own and will put on the Welles-Mulholland collar and there are others who are under obligation to Mr. Welles for many acts of kindness, but a great majority of the qualified voters are men of intelligence who are independent in thought and action, and will vote as they think will be best to put an end to the present deplorable condition of Pensacola.

Now, Mr. Cucumber, you seem to think it strange that men will "rush into print before informing themselves." I think so, too, and suggest that you proceed to look up the word "charter," and ascertain its meaning. As you may not have a dictionary I will quote for your instruction from the Standard, page 321: "Charter: An act of a legislature, incorporating a municipality, and specifying the purposes and privileges thereof." "Amendment: The act of correcting or changing for the better a fundamental law." To correct its deficiencies. Now, look on page 93 of the municipal code and read "Charter of the City of Pensacola. Being an act of the legislature, Approved May 27, 1895, as amended by chapters 5087 and 5088, Laws of Florida 1901." An amendment merely enlarges the powers of a municipality and becomes a part of the instrument.

Now, Mr. Cucumber, you are troubled by the language of Mr. Welles in his recommendation to the council calling for "such additional legislation" as may be necessary to enlarge the powers of the corporation or municipality; in other words, amending the charter.

In the third paragraph from the close of your letter you say "It will be noticed that amending the city charter is not mentioned in the mayor's recommendation, etc." No? We'll see the result of his recommendation. "Be it resolved by the mayor and city council: That the senator and representatives from Escambia county in the legislature of Florida be and they are hereby requested to use their endeavors to obtain the enactment of law amending the charter of the city of Pensacola in the following particulars," et sequentia.

In your last paragraph you say, "Mr. Bliss had about as much to do with the matter as I had in shaping the good roads question in Florida." I think that will be admitted by anyone who has read the bill and resolution sent to the legislature.

A lawyer well versed in corporation and municipal law said after reading them: "If that bill is passed by the legislature I would give a guarantee to prevent for ten years to come the expenditure of a single dollar for municipal improvements."

I am afraid the friends of boy Shine are trying to poke fun at the legislature and the friends of municipal ownership.

JACKSONVILLE BOARDS ROB PETER TO PAY PAUL.

Jacksonville, April 25.—The Times-Union says: At the meeting of the Board of Public Works yesterday a gentle reminder was received from the auditor of the Board of Bond Trustees to the effect that $24,000 semi-annual interest on city bonds will be due May 15, and that the Board of Public Works due the Board of Bond Trustees the sum of $30,000 for public lighting.

The Bond Trustees control the electric light plant and also have to provide for paying interest on the city's bonded indebtedness. The budget for 1904 shows that the interest on bonds for 1905 will amount to $68,400, and of this amount, $30,467.50 is to be paid from the earnings of the waterworks and electric light plants, leaving $37,932.50 interest to be provided for by tax levy.

To raise this amount there is a special assessment, amount of interest, amounting to 2.3 mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation. The Board of Public Works pays from its funds the sum of $30,000 each year for public lighting and $1,221.65 for water for public use, and this money goes into the funds of the Board of Bond Trustees.

The amount paid for public lighting ($30,000), the amount paid for water for public use ($1,277.65), and the amount raised by direct taxation for interest on the bonds ($30,467.50) make a total of $61,699.85 out of the total of $68,400 interest on bonds that is not provided for by taxation, and which is to be paid from the profits of the waterworks and electric plants, for the Board of Public Works funds, with which the amounts charged for public lighting and for water for public use, are paid, are raised by taxation and turned over to the Bond Trustees.

When the communication from the auditor of the Board of Bond Trustees was read at the meeting of the Board of Public Works, yesterday, the board directed a warrant drawn for $15,000, just half the amount that is to be paid for city lighting. Chairman Dignan stating that the understanding was that half the amount due was to be paid by May 1.

Chairman Dignan called attention to the fact that $7,500 out of the $34,467.50 to be expended by the board for paying, is to be paid from earnings of the waterworks and electric light plants.

Thus the transfers of funds goes on. The Board of Public Works pays the Board of Bond Trustees $31,277.65 for public lighting and water for public purposes and the Board of Bond Trustees pays the Board of Public Works $7,500 to be applied on account of street paving.

A Willful Genius.

Malibran, the singer, was an artist who deserved her success, for her greatest triumphs came from the hardest work. Her voice was not a miracle of nature. It was gold, says one of her biographers, but it was gold that had to be dug from the earth, smelted and made pliable under the hammer. One day she was overheard at her practicing in gusts of angry apostrophe.

"I'll see whether I cannot make you obey me," she was saying to her voice.

"I'll see whether you will obey me."

For her the word "impossible" did not exist. If her voice was out of order or her throat refused to obey she accomplished amazing effects by sheer force of will. Perhaps it was fortunate that her career was not a long one. No human powers could have endured the strain she placed habitually upon this gift of hers.

One day she executed a shake upon the highest notes of her register. She laughed then at the amazement of her listeners.

"That brute of a note has given me no end of trouble," said she. "I have been trying to get it for the last month. I tried it while dressing and while I was doing my hair. I tried it when I was taking my walks and while I was riding. At last I got hold of it this morning while I was tying my shoe-strings."

"And where did you find it, madame?"

"There!" she answered, laughing and putting her finger to her forehead.

Have the Home Beer Pure

Whatever you drink outside, let your home beer be Schlitz. That is pure beer. No bacilli in it --- nothing to make you bilious.

Beer is a saccharine product, and germs multiply rapidly in it. The slightest taint of impurity quickly ruins its healthfulness.

We go to the utmost extremes to prevent that. Cleanliness is a science where Schlitz beer is brewed.

We even cool the beer in plate glass rooms, in nothing but filtered air.

Then we filter the beer. Then we sterilize every bottle.

And Schlitz beer is aged. The beer that makes you bilious is green beer.

When you order beer for your home, get the healthfulness without the harm. Get a pure beer - get an old beer - get Schlitz.

THE BEER THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS

More Hay. Two clubmen were praising the pluck of dogs.

"A good dog," said one, "has the same kind of pluck that old Jerome McWade used to show."

"He was a farmer, seventy years old, but still hale and hearty. One morning he and his two sons got to wrangling over their strength, and Jerome declared that he could load quite as fast as they could pitch it."

"So to the fields they went, and Jerome got into a hay wagon with his fork, and the two boys down below began to pitch the hay up to him as fast as they could pitch it."

"The old man stood up to his work stoutly. He loaded with lightning speed, and all the while he kept calling down: 'More hay! More hay!'"

"The boys worked hard. Their youth told in their favor. Old Jerome got to loading more and more untidily. Still as he scrambled about on top of the uneven mounds he continued to shout, 'More hay!'"

"All of a sudden he tripped as he dug in his fork and fell from the wagon to the ground."

"Ah," said his eldest son, "what are you doing down here?"

"Jerome as he rose answered: 'I came down for more hay.'"

Oysters With or Without.

"Sitting opposite me in a downtown oyster house the other day," said a clubman, "was one of those fastidious men who undertake to transmit instructions to the cook through the waiter. He wanted a twenty-five cent stew. As nearly as I can remember, these were his instructions:

"Now, waiter, kindly tell the cook I don't want the oysters and milk merely mixed and heated. I want the milk carefully boiled first. The oysters should then be added without the liquor. The liquor should not be put in until the seasoning is added. Be very particular to get good rich milk and nothing but the best gilt edged butter. As for the oysters, I want Cape Cod salts. No ordinary stock oysters for me. Do you understand?"

"I think so, sir," replied the waiter. "But do you wish the oysters with or without?"

"With or without what?" asked the customer.

"Pearls, sir."—New York Press.

Which Is Your Choice?

To be prosperous or to remain in want? You can be one of the successful if you are not a coward.

If you have the nerve to try, there is no question but that you will be prosperous. There is no accomplishment in wants, so you might want and want all your life and then die in want, but let trial take the place of want and let trial be composed of physical and mental labor, and success is yours. Taking this as your motto, carefully consider the merits of the investment home purchasing contracts issued by the Standard Trust Company.
